

Rollicate

RULEBOOK

Rollecate is a beautiful, but fairly old steam locomotive. The last few years she has been slowly rusting away in an old shed, much to her dismay! So she needs your help to get going again. Use your cards to build a new railway and let the Rollecate ride again. But be careful not to derail Rollecate: That will cost you points!

CONTENTS

55 playing cards, of which there are:

50 track cards

(46 regular tracks, 4 broken tracks)

5 chaos cards

1 wooden train
("Rollecate")

4 dice

GAME IDEA

In this game you take turns extending the railway with your cards and rolling the dice to see how many steps Rollecate will move. While riding, Rollecate may derail and that will get you penalty cards. To win, try to get rid of your cards and collect as few penalty cards as possible.

GAME SETUP

- 1 Shuffle the cards and form a face-down draw pile in the middle of the table.
- 2 Build an initial railway of 4 track cards by taking turns: Draw 1 card from the draw pile and add it to the end of the railway. Make sure the rails connect properly (see box). Put any chaos cards you draw aside. When the initial railway is finished, add the chaos cards back to the draw pile and shuffle the cards.
NOTE: With 2 players, you'll both add 2 cards; with 3 players, only 1 player will add 2 cards.
- 3 Put the train on the third card of the railway. Rollocate will always move towards the end of the railway.

CONNECTING RAILS:

The rails should connect properly and the cards can never overlap each other.

- 4 Draw a number of cards from the draw pile and put them back in the box unseen. The number depends on the player count (see box). These cards are not used in this game.

REMOVING CARDS:

- 2 players remove 11 cards
3 players remove 9 cards
4 players remove 7 cards

- 5 Deal 2 cards to every player. Pick up your cards and keep them hidden from other players.
- 6 Make some room in front of you for your personal discard pile.
- 7 Whoever last traveled by train may start.

Setup

GAMEPLAY

You play the game in turns, in clockwise order. The game ends when the draw pile is empty. The player who drew the last card finishes their turn. Then the player's scores are determined.

When it's your turn, first draw 1 card from the draw pile and take it in your hand (there is no hand limit). Then you must perform exactly 1 of the following actions:

- 1 PASS
- 2 BUILD TRACKS
- 3 DISCARD CHAOS CARDS

ACTION 1: PASS

You're always allowed to pass. It might be your only option, or it may just be your best option. When you choose to pass, move Rollocate 1 card forward if possible. During a pass action Rollocate never derails! Then take 1 penalty card (see box).

TAKING PENALTY CARDS:

Whenever you have to take a penalty card, do so one by one from the start of the railway until you have reached the required number. If you reach the card Rollocate is standing on, stop and don't take the card. At the end of your turn, you will put your penalty cards on your personal discard pile in any order you like.

COMBINING CARDS:

You are allowed to make combinations when putting penalty cards on your discard pile. If the card you discard has the same value as the top card of your discard pile, you may take both cards and put them in the box. They won't count towards your final score.

If you have to discard multiple penalty cards during your turn, you are allowed to combine several times. However, each card can only be combined once. You are allowed to combine with cards you only just discarded in this turn.

NOTE: You are allowed to inspect the cards in your discard pile. By combining your cards cleverly, you can get rid of a lot of penalty points!

ACTION 2: BUILD TRACKS

Take 1 or more cards with the same value from your hand and add them to the end of the railway. There are a number of rules for this (see box).

ADDING TRACKS:

These are the rules for adding track cards:

- 1 Add cards either vertically or horizontally.
- 2 The rails on the cards should always align.
- 3 Cards can never overlap each other.
- 4 The difference in the value of two adjacent cards can never be 2. So you are never allowed to add a 1 to a 3 (but you can add to a 1, 2 or 4). Similarly, you can't add a 2 to a 4. The symbol in the bottom left corner of every card serves as a reminder.

Example: When you have two cards of value 1, you are allowed to add both. But say you have a 3 and a 4: Then you will have to choose and you can add only one of them.

After you have added your card(s), Rollocate will start to ride. Add up the values of the track cards you added to the railway. Roll a number of dice equal to this total value. Roll multiple times when you need more than 4 dice.

Example: You added two track cards with value 2, so you will have to roll $2 + 2 = 4$ dice.

Count the number of times you rolled an  and move Rollocate an equal number of track cards forwards toward the end of the railway. If Rollocate moves past the end of the railway, she will derail (see box).

WHEN ROLLOCATE DERAILS:

Put Rollocate on the last card of the railway and take penalty cards. The number of cards you take should equal the number of steps you weren't able to complete. Put these cards on your discard pile at the end of your turn. Please remember that you are allowed to combine cards when discarding (see before).

Example: You roll the dice and get 3 times a . So you will have to move Rollocate 3 steps forward. There is only one track card in front of Rollocate, so she will derail. Move Rollocate to the last card and take 2 penalty cards.

Whenever Rollocate passes over a Broken track or stops on one, she will get damaged. Take 1 penalty card to pay for the repairs. Discard this penalty card at the end of your turn. It is possible for Rollocate to pass more than 1 broken track in your turn. If that happens, you will have to take multiple penalty cards.

ACTION 3: DISCARD CHAOS CARDS

This action is only possible if you have at least 1 chaos card in your hand. Put 1 or more of these on your discard pile, in any order you like.

The rules for combining apply. The chaos cards you discard don't have to be of the same value. Unlike the pass action, you will not have to move the train forward or take a penalty card.

END OF GAME AND SCORING

The game ends after the last card has been taken from the draw pile. When you draw the last card, you still get to finish your turn. Then all players will add their hand cards to their discard pile.

NOTE: You are not allowed to combine cards anymore.

Add up the values of all the cards in your discard pile. This will be your score. Whoever has the lowest score wins.

In case of a tie, the player with the least cards wins. If there still is a tie, the tied player with the fewest cards of value 4 will win (followed by values 3, 2 and 1, if necessary). In the unlikely event this still yields no winner, the tied players will have to share the victory.

SOLO PLAY

You can play Rollocate even if you are by yourself. In this solo variant your goal is to score as few penalty points as possible. Try and improve your score with every following game you play. Keep track of your scores on a piece of paper you keep in the game box.

Setup a solo game just like you would setup a 2 player game. Build an initial railway of 4 track cards. Remove 11 cards from the draw pile and put them in the box. Play the game until the draw pile is empty. Then determine your score. The fewer penalty points, the better.

A more difficult solo-variant goes like this: You are only allowed to let Rollocate derail 3 times. The fourth time she derails, the game will be over and you lose.

NOTE: Damages by broken rails of course don't count towards the allowed number of 3 derailments.

SOLO PLAY WITH VIRTUAL OPPONENT

In this solo variant you will play Rollocate against a virtual opponent. Let's call her Betsy. Setup a game like you normally would for a 2 player game. You will play by the regular rules. For Betsy, some of the rules will be different.

For starters, Betsy won't get dealt any cards. Whenever it's her turn, she will draw a card, which you will of course get to see. If she drew a Chaos card, she will put it on her discard pile.

Track cards she will always try to build. If it's not possible to build the track card according to the rules, she will pass. The card she just drew will be put in the box if Betsy has to pass.

After building a track, Betsy won't roll the dice. Instead, she will always move Rollocate number of steps indicated on the card she just built. If the train derails, she will always take exactly one penalty card.

Whenever Betsy receives a penalty card, she will always put it on her discard pile directly. So she won't wait until the end of her turn. When discarding, Betsy always combines cards when possible.

The final score for Betsy is determined by counting the number of cards on her discard pile (and not by summarizing their points).
